

Layer by layer, electric cellist and composer Brianna Tam uses her loop station in order to envelop listeners in her epic symphonic realm.

Brianna's enthralling one-woman performances have garnered her a mesmerizing TEDx Talk, an electrifying Metallica-cover concert, and an enchanting performance for a private event with Dr. Gary Chapman. She was recently selected as a Top Shelf performer for NPR's 2023 Tiny Desk Contest. Brianna will be engaging in an artist residency for the Blowing Rock Art & History Museum in October 2023.

Her gift of building worlds through sound has landed Brianna in the role of composer for the films The Tannery (post-prod), Wild Fire (2023), and Healing Waters (2022), as well as for the game, The Gold Crow (2022). Brianna's inspiring single, "Bioluminescence," was recently awarded First Place for the 2022 International Songwriting Competition. Brianna is a signed composer for both Eternal Music Group and Artlist Original.
